SAY HOWARD WAS SEARCHED AND DIDN'T BRING DOPE ASHORE

An interesting story is told concerning the capture of Second Steward Howard, who was employed on the P. M. S. Manchuria, and convicted of a charge of having smuggled opium ashore. Chris Snyder, a tourist, was brought back from San Francisco by the Manchuria, and was acquitted on Monday on the charge of having been concerned in the deal, because Howard says that he had nothing to do with it. Judging by an unofficial statement made this morning, it would seem that there was plenty of justification for the action of the officials. Howard's movements from the time he left the Manchuria to the time that he re-boarded her were accounted for perfectly, and when he was confronted with the knowledge, it is said, he broke down and admitted everything, implicating Snyder.

Collector of the Port Stackable was called upon this morning to confirm the story, but he was not available. The story is to the effect that Howard, on his outward trip from here in the Manchuria, was short of money, and he pledged a ring for $50. When he returned he redeemed the ring, and wanted the loan of $200, promising that he would give as much opium as was necessary to cover the loan, and thus secure the lender.

KOREA IS REFLOATED AND ON HER WAY TO HONOLULU

The Pacific Mail Company's local agents, H. Hackfeld & Co., were advised this morning that the Korea got off the ground near Yokohama harbor without any assistance. The message was brief, but Mr. Klebahn took it that as she has started on her long journey across the Pacific to San Francisco, via Honolulu, there was nothing serious in the mishap at all. Beyond the fact that she was aground and refloated without assistance, he has no information. She is due to arrive and leave here on Saturday week, June 17.

Claudine Has Assortment.

The Claudine with her usual regularity arrived this morning from Hilo via Maui with 25,434 feet of Ohia timber, twenty cords of wood, eighteen crates of chickens, 115 packages of hides, 133 sacks of taro, 100 watermelons, one automobile, three horses, forty-six hogs and 151 packages of sundries.

Purser Kibling of the Claudine reports that the schooner Melrose and the steamer Enterprise were at Hilo on Monday last, and that the Mexican was at Kahului yesterday.

Purser Peake of the Nihau reports that the schooner Lyman D. Foster arrived at Mahukona on June 5 with coal for Honolulu from Newcastle, N. S. W. In some manner that Peake does not explain, the schooner lost her anchor together with twenty-five fathoms of chain. This was recovered by the Nihau and restored to the Lyman D. Foster.
